Those who maintain the theory of Guiteau's sanity seem to imagine that that theory is supported by the fact that nothing abnormal was discovered in the physical appearance of his brain. To those at all familiar with the appearance of human brains anything abnormal about Guiteau's would have been legitimate cause of special wonder. The most skillful and experienced anatomist in existence, to save his own head, couldn't distinguish the brain of the militates against him.

FROM WASHINGTON

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.-Senator Johnston has received numerous letters from various parts of Virginia requesting him to allow himself to be named as a candidate for Congressman-at-large from that State, but he has politely though emphatically declined all such requests. The Senator is one of the wise people who believe that as the democrats have only one source from which to draw their necessary reinforcements, they had better avail themselves of it with as little ado and as speedily as possible.

The morning papers contain notices of a strike of the miners at the Elk Garden coal mines in West Virginia, but the agents of the company owning those mines in this city had heard nothing of such a strike up to noon to-day, though it is said to have com-

Gentlemen from the 9th Virginia district in Virginia, here to-day, say that should the democrats run a straightout candidate in that district next fall they will probably select Judge Morrison, of Scott county, who was removed from his judgeship by the Mahoneites. He is a young Jeffersonian democrat, and is said to be very popular in his district. Mr. Connelly Trigg, who made such a good run two years ago, is also spoken of, but his lukewarmness last fall

Notwithscanding the recent defeat of the whiskey bill in the Senate it is by no means improbable that it may pass that body before the adjournment of the present session. The whiskey men of Philadelphia, Boston and other cities have made such representations to Secretary Folger respecting the danger to the business interest of the country resulting from the defeat of that bill that he has promised to do what he can toward inducing the Senate finance committee to recommend an extension of the bonded term to five years.

Buchanan was from Alexandria, Va. James T. Maund has been arrested, tried and committed for the murder. Mr. B. W. Hill, a witness, stated that he was shot near Mr. Maund's house by James T. Maund, about 10 o'clock p. m., the moon shining bright. My informant states that Mr. B. was quiet and disturbing no one, and it was a wilful sailed from Constantinople for Alexandria murder. Very few knew of the murder until the next morning, and the citizens were very much excited over the outrage My informant says Maund's friends are trying to screne him. Mr. B. is interred in the Fy Fy cemetery. I regret very much that my business engagements were such that I could not go to Fy Fy, for you well know Alexandrians are very clanish. Poor Billie, he was a good fellow, and to think that he should be shot down in cold blood in hard. indeed. I hope that the murderer will get his just deserts. I know that the good people of Fy Fy will prosecute the murderer, who ever he may be to the fullest extent of the law. J. W. W.

Mr. Beek offered to resign as a member of the Committee on Appropriations in favor of Mr. Morgan, and the latter said he would accept, but the chair said the proposition was out of order. #### The Municipal Troubles in Petersburg.

The readjusters city council of Petersburg met on Saturday, and elected a full set of county has been cut, and by the middle of city officers, making a dual government in the week, nearly all the harvesting will be the subordinate municipal department. The question as to who are the legally elected offiers will be submitted to the courts to-day.

The council probably met a minute before the usual time, 4 o'clock: at least it is so stated by the democrats. The readjusters first elected a temporary chairman, who took his seat before the arrival of the regu-larly elected president, Mr Hugh R. Smith, who entered the council-room to discover to his regret, that his chair was already filled and would not be yielded to him upon de-A reward of $200 is offered for the arrest of mand. tion of officers, Mr. E. W. Couch, one of their councilmen, rose to tender his resignation as a member of the council. Mr. Couch, on May 25th last, was elected city treasurer, his incumbency of the office to commence July 1, Mr. Couch therefore held a city office, viz that of member of the council, and a State and city officer combined, to wit: that of treasurer of the city of Petersburg.

When Mr. Couch had resigned, the numerical status of parties was thus: Democrats 7, readjusters 12. Immediately following the resignation of Mr. Couch and before a motion had been put to elect his successor, the democrats deliberately arose and withdrew from the meeting. By this action they left the readjusters with twelve members present in the council, one less than a quorum as the democrats claim. The rules Richmond Paper Company against the Al- of government of the council by which the leghany Railroad Company who violated a democrats acted required thirteen members contract with the former as to furnishing it to constitute a quorum. But one of the first things done in the afternoon by the readjuster council was the adoption of new rules of government of the council. One section of these rules provides that a "majority of the members of the council shall constitute a quorum." They elected a suc-cessor to Mr. Couch and a few minutes afterwards adjourned under a resolution to meet again on Monday evening.

The city at night was patrolled by a double force of policemen, the democratic force under the command of Capt. George W. Eaves, with headquarters at the station house; the readjuster force, with headquarters at the jail, under the direction of Capt. A. S. Gitnan, who was elected chief of police by the readjuster council. The police committee appointed by the readjuster council served a formal demand upon Capt. Eaves to surrender to them the police headquarters and appurtenances thereof. Capt. Eaves coolly refused to comply.

The Hustings court room was packed at night by members of the bar, politicians and spectators to hear the argument in the case of E. W. Couch, who resigned his office at the meeting of the council to enable himself to qualify as city treasurer. Senator Mahone was present, and subsequently became one of the surities on Mr. Couch's official bond. Judge Mann decided that Mr. Couch was legally able to qualify, and hesubsequently gave bond in the sum of $130,000. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

VIRGINIA BONDS .- J. A. Hambleton & Co's. Baltimore financial circular of Saturday last says: Virginia bonds were dull but firm at about same prices as last week. There were quite large transactions in consols between 59% and 60, and as there was less pressure to sell for foreign account, lars per head. Referred to Committee on Commerce.

A number of bills of no general importance were then passed.

The general deficiency appropriation bill was proceeded with and the committee amendments agreed to as read.

The tendency was rather upwards. The fact of the coupons on consols falling due July 1st also stiffened prices. At 60 for consols and 60 for coupons the holder of these bonds will receive 6 per cent on his money. Ten-forties are firm at 42% to 43 and we see no reason why they should not be cheap at these figures. Virginia deferred sold at 12 and black scrip at 34.
